Diamond Ventures Donates Park to Casa Grande
*Villago Park city's latest recreational area

Casa Grande, Ariz. (July 22, 2009) — The city of Casa Grande has added a new park to its roster. Villago Park, on North Pinal Avenue, was officially adopted into the city system last month, Parks' Superintendent Rod Wood told the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board Wednesday.

The park is part of a multiphase donation to the city by Villago developer Diamond Ventures. Last year the developer donated nearby Villago Lake to the municipality. Villago Park has a playground area for young children, ramadas, basketball courts, tennis courts, soccer fields, restrooms and open-space turf areas.

Wood said that the city has already begun taking reservations for events at the park.
